

Dr. Juan Reppucci / Focal Point, Argentina.

He has worked in the research and conservation of carnivores in Argentina throughout his career. The High Andean carnivores, especially the Andean cat, were the focus of study for his 2005. Since then he has been working with the species in different research and conservation activities. Since 2015, he has worked